About Your Web Sailor

Clinton (Clint) Fielder lives in sunny Southern California. He is a long-time Boeing Company employee, husband, and father of two beautiful daughters.

Clint is also a First Class Petty Officer in the Navy Reserve with a non-prior service background. He is currently assigned to a shore-based cargo handling unit out of his local Navy Operational Support Center (formerly "Reserve Center").

Petty Officer Fielder originally enlisted with the Navy Reserve to obtain hands-on experience in the areas of material handling and material control to enhance his professional skills. Over the years, he has remained a reservist for the camaraderie and promise for excellent retirement benefits.
