Welcome to 4 O Sailor!

"4 O Sailor", pronounced as "four-oh sailor", is a personal website by citizen-sailor Clinton Fielder. A combination of events; past, present, and anticipated, have inspired me to construct this site of many interests.

A squared-away, 4 O Sailor (pronounced "four-oh"), like a 4.0 student, is an ideal sailor with a well kept uniform, excellent military bearing and excels in their navy career. The closest one may become to being a 4 O Sailor is right after boot camp, before salt water, reality and hard Navy life sets in.

Please note that this website is written for a non-military audience (friends, family, etc.). And excuse my over-simplification of wording in some areas and dated language in other areas ("Sea Stories").

In addition, this website is under construction in the "Meet 'Delta' Company" page. I am still receiving inputs from fellow service members. It should be completed in the coming weeks.

Finally, some pages are not available to the public as they relate to Navy Reserve business. Otherwise, enjoy the pages and stories, and feel free to "Contact Us" and help make this website worthy of its name.

Thank you,

Clinton Fielder
